elegant patios

Claude Monet, whose famous painting “Impression, Sunrise” gave name to the Impressionist movement in France, enjoyed “series” painting where he captured a specific subject or landscape in various light and weather conditions. EP Henry patios present their own masterpiece throughout the year. Whether it is the summer sun or an autumn rain dancing off the natural Hardscape™ surface, EP Henry patios assure you of timeless beauty you’ll long treasure. Embrace the elegant charm and durability of EP Henry and create a lasting impression.

When gazing upon the work of the great French painter, Paul Cezanne, you appreciate his mastery of color, subject and composition. The inter-relationship between all three manifests itself in EP Henry walkways and steps. More than simply a way to get from here to there, EP Henry creates an avenue that excites the senses and blends seamlessly into its natural surroundings.

distinguished driveways

In the forefront of France's Impressionist movement was Pierre-Auguste Renoir. Renoir's use of vibrant light and color invites you into his renowned landscape and portrait paintings. In the same fashion, an EP Henry driveway beckons visitors to your home. Our Hardscaping™ products' rich natural texture and refined color palette create a warm yet impressive entranceway. Pride in craftsmanship thrives at EP Henry where there truly is no substitute for an original.

imaginative walls

Among the most famous works of art in the world are the paintings and drawings of the Dutch artist Vincent van Gogh. Initially working in somber colors, his later pieces exhibited a far wider expression with the use of more vibrant hues. Express your own sense of freedom and style with a wall system from EP Henry. Elegant walls made from natural materials harmonize with, and add an exciting new depth to, your landscape.

creative events

French painter Georges-Pierre Seurat is known for his scientific approach to painting in dots rather than strokes to achieve brighter color. His works vividly show that color can be used in art to create emotion and harmony. EP Henry evokes similar feelings through its masterfully crafted Hardscaping™ exhibits. We encourage you to visit us at the Philadelphia Flower Show, Philadelphia Home Show and other special events. Experience some of our extraordinary work and leave inspired to go to work on your canvas.
